

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XVII.

STANFORD, KY. FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1889.

NO. 75

HUSTONVILLE.

—Corn is selling here at $1.75 per bushel delivered.

—Mr. James Allen purchased the lot on which the building stood that was burned Sunday morning and will erect a building that will be a credit to our town.

—M. E. Allen, who was burned out last Sunday morning, left for Louisville to-day to purchase a new stock and will resume business immediately. The true origin of the fire is not yet known.

—On the 5th inst., an entertainment will be given by the pupils of Mrs. A. H. Reid's elocution class. Quite a number of our young ladies and gentlemen have taken a complete course in this art and now feel able to entertain their friends and prove a credit to themselves. The programme consists of select readings, recitations and music. Mrs. Reid came here highly endorsed and she has proven herself a thorough scholar in this interesting study.

—Your correspondent will be proud for the public to know what an excellent school we have. Our Christian College enrolls about 100 pupils. The course of study is of the most practical nature, while at the same time all the "finishing touches" can be acquired. Prof. M. G. Thomson is assisted by a very competent staff of teachers. Our citizens are proud of her educational building and justly so, for it almost causes our town to boom. Citizens and patrons encourage your school.

—Mrs. G. W. Weatherford was suddenly seized with a severe hemorrhage of the nose Sunday, and is still in a precarious condition. Mrs. Clinton Jenkins is still confined to her bed very little improved. Mr. L. B. Adams and wife, who have been visiting in Texas for the past month, returned home Thursday accompanied by their son, Charlie, who is in delicate health. Miss Anna McNeilly, of Nashville, Tenn., who has been visiting the family of Mr. Hugh Logan, returned home last week and since. Invitations have been received here announcing her marriage to Dr. White, a practicing physician of that place. Mrs. Dr. Lee Hoffman, of Lexington, is visiting relatives here. She says the Dr. is delighted with his new home.

MT. SALEM.

—Mr. Geo. W. Estlin has been confined to his bed for several days with a serious illness of a complicated nature, but at last accounts was improving.

—The promising young school teacher, Patrick Humphrey, of Carpenter's Creek, lately became possessed of some strange vagaries which has created a solicitude or apprehension on the part of his friends that his fertile mind may not be in exact equilibrium. After reading and digesting some 2,000 pages of Darwin's theory of evolution he has become thoroughly convinced that he, the said Patrick, was once fully equipped with the mental appendages of the monkey.

—Your neighbor, Mr. Dan Miller, has been entertaining the people of this section with his fine social qualities. The delicate features of Geo. Carpenter was also very conspicuous at the sale the other day. A good sized crowd attended the sale of the personal property of M. L. Richards, dec'd, on the 29th. J. N. Menefee, admr., managed the affair, while Dan Miller did the auctioneering. According to the opinion of the people the property, considering the times, brought good prices generally. While a good deal was sold, it would be tedious to go into details. We only quote a few prices paid to indicate the current tendency of the market: Horses brought from $60 to $80, cattle 21 cents per lb; hogs about $3.70 per cwt; hay about $6.50 per stack of 12 tons to the stack; corn $1.50 per hundred bushels; corn on an average of $1.37 per bushel stacked in the field. Household and kitchen furniture sold well. The entire family, with the exception of Philbert and W. C. Richards, half brother of the dec'd, will start in a few days for Iowa. This will leave a vacuum in the neighborhood for the family has been long and favorably known in this section as possessing sterling integrity and other commendable qualities.

The Lady Next Door.

Mrs. W. called the lady next door because she always seemed so well and happy. "She enjoys life and I don't," said the discontented woman. "How I would like to change places with her!" At last she made the acquaintance of the object of her envy, and this is what the lady told her: "Happy? Of course I am, for I enjoy perfect health. My dear Mrs. W., your face tells me why you are not happy. You are suffering from functional derangements. I was a martyr to female weaknesses for years, but Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cured me, and will cure you if you will try it. It is guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case or price, $1 returned."

What A Fortune

Is a good healthy, pearly skin. Few are aware of the short time it takes for a disordered liver to cover blotches on the face, and a dark greasy skin. One bottle of BEECH'S BLOOD PURIFIER and BLOOD MAKER will restore this organ to its natural and healthy state, and cleanse the blood of all impurities. It is meeting with wonderful success. We guarantee every bottle. A. H. Penny, Druggist.

McKINNEY.

—Bud Martin delivered some old corn to the Tanner Mills at $2.15 per bushel.

—W. A. Colley bought of Sawp Givens 23 acres of land adjoining his farm at $40 per acre. J. Walker Givens has purchased the W. L. Richards stallion.

—Talk about your garden stuff, your big potatoes, green things and such like, but Arch B. McKinney has won the laurels on a ground he has on exhibition at Crow & Co's drug store. It measures 14 feet in circumference and 14 feet average diameter.

—Wilson S. Gooch and W. R. Davidson have formed a partnership to do a general merchandise business at this place. They have bought the stock and good will of J. W. Bailey and are now taking an inventory. They are both nice, clever gentlemen deserving of patronage.

—Squire John Bailey reports two of the oldest sisters known to be living in this county. They are Mrs. Kiziah Haman aged 93 living in the East End, Mrs. Bailey, aged 86, living with her son Wes, at this place. Their maiden name was Jett and they are the only surviving members of a family of 13 children.

—D. V. Kennedy killed his favorite dog on account of symptoms of hydrophobia. L. D. Garner, of Crab Orchard, paid F. M. Ware a visit and attended the Richards sale. Our good friend, J. W. Salter, of Harrodsburg, has been among us this week. C. C. Carson, of our town, has been the guest of W. T. Daddie Geo. Lee James, of Crab Orchard, was here on business the first of the week. Miss Belle Mitchell is reported quite sick. Miss Pearl Tabler is convalescing. Dr. Ed. Alcorn has treated his dwelling here to a new roof. O. J. Crow and J. T. Hocker made a flying trip to Somerset. A. N. Williams is suffering considerably with sore eyes. John Ward is visiting his sister, Mr. W. A. Hamilton, and other friends here. Dr. Barnes and L. C. Noble, of Lexington, have been here prospecting with a view to organizing a Building and Loan Association at this place. Rev. J. N. Bowling, of Middlesboro, has moved into the Jones property, known as the Veranda Hotel. We welcome him in our midst. Mrs. J. P. Crow has recent encouraging news concerning the German Fisher estate.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Rev. John Bell Gibson, after a fortnight's absence, will occupy his pulpit at the usual hours Sunday.

—The Baptists of Nashville want to establish a university there and will get up a memorial to the Baptists of America asking for aid.

—Rev. T. J. Gooch will fill his regular appointment at the Methodist church Sunday morning and at McKendree at 7 o'clock Sunday night.

—Rev. J. W. Lynch, who is conducting the meeting at the Baptist church, bears a striking resemblance to Congressman Taulbee, of the 10th district, and like him is an orator. He preaches the gospel with great earnestness and effort and his sermons are sure to do incalculable good here. The first confessions of the meeting occurred Wednesday night, when four young girls just budding into lovely womanhood went up and were given the right hand of fellowship—Miss Alpha Tyree, Annie Hale, Monte Harris and Minnie Monday. The meeting will continue till further notice with services at 10 a. m. and 7 at night.

—Hunt—J. F. Rigney and wife have returned from a visit to Pulaski and Casey. James Robinson sold a half interest in a car-load of cattle at 21 cents and shipped Tuesday. Tom Woods bought Eubanks' cattle weighing 1,250 at $2.85 and shipped to Cincinnati and lost $30 on 22 cattle—good republican administration. The church here has a new fence around it. Henry Bald sold his young mules to John Woods at $50. Will McCord sold Wesley Sutton some corn stacked in the field at $1.50. J. W. Bright sold to M. E. Herrin some at $1.10. Mr. Shugars has rented the Owsley farm for $800. Hubble and Walker have returned from an extended trip through the mountains to Middlesboro. They are not down with the fever yet, but are a little puny. Mr. and Mrs. Swape have returned from Bradfordsville. We get the Journal all O. K. via Danville. Eliza Smith passed here on route for Birmingham Wednesday to visit her brother, Col. Underwood is in the fight, having another boy at his house. Will Floyd has returned home after driving horses at Swape's for some time. Bob Hocker and Jerry Dawson, of color, are going to build on Cherry street.

DRUNKENNESS—THE LIQUOR HABIT—In all the World there is but one cure, Dr. Haines' Golden Specific. It can be given in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it, effecting a speedy and permanent cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. Thousands of drunkards have been cured who have taken the Golden Specific in their coffee without their knowledge, and to-day believe they could drink of their own free will. No harmful effect results from its administration. Cures guaranteed. Send for circular and full particulars. Address in confidence: Golden Specific Co., 165 Race Street, Cincinnati, O.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—Rev. W. A. Boran, of the Harrodsburg Baptist church, and Miss May Fontaine, of Norfolk, Va., will be united in marriage on the 6th.

—Cicero Reynolds and Miss Susan, the pretty 18 year old daughter of J. M. Leach, were united in marriage at the bride's father's near Waynesburg yesterday.

—The Savannah News tells of a woman in Wadley, Ga., who has become a grandmother at the age of 30. She married when only 14 and her daughter did likewise.

—George Mover and Miss Julia Yocum, aged 19 each and Pat McGarvey, Jr., 18 and Mary Ann Smith, 21 years, were married at Mr. M. D. Elmore's store yesterday by Judge T. W. Varon.

—J. J. Clancy, local conductor on the L. & N., and Miss Martha Fletcher, were joined heart and hand at Rowland Tuesday. Mr. Clancy is an exceedingly clever gentleman and his wife is said to be very pretty.

—Miss Mary, daughter of Hon. James B. Martin, a leading candidate for clerk of the court of appeals, was married at her father's residence in Glasgow Wednesday to Mr. E. B. Flenor, of Bowling Green.

—The marriage between Prince Murat and Miss Gwendoline Caldwell has been indefinitely postponed if not altogether broken off. It is stated that the difficulty is caused by the groom being dissatisfied with the terms of the marriage settlement. It is her money and not the girl that the fortune hunting prince is after, and if Miss Gwendoline is worthy of her American birthright, she will show the fellow that hell hath no fury like a woman scorned.

—Miss Clara Huntington is now Princess Hatzfeldt though her titled lord came near backing out when old man Huntington refused to give him the $3,000,000 instead of to his adopted daughter. Huntington has not paid the Prince's debts nor has he promised to do so, though he has allowed it to be understood if the young man behaves himself and is not reckless with the interest on his wife's dowry, that he may get a financial lift hereafter. The Prince has finally sealed his debts down to half a million dollars, and with a little economy he can pay this in a short time from the interest on his wife's fortune.

—At 7:30 on Wednesday evening in the parlors of Mr. G. R. Engleman two hearts that have loved from childhood were joined in wedlock's holy bonds. Miss Bessie V. Engleman and Mr. Bowen W. Givens were the participants in the God-ordained ceremony, and that each of them has come to look forward to a future full of brightness, no one can doubt. Attended by four of their most intimate lady friends, Misses Lizzie Bright, Gatewood Givens, Nannie Baughman and Fannie Pennington, and in the presence of a few friends and relatives, these happy young persons were pronounced husband and wife in an impressive and beautiful ceremony by Rev. Green Lee Sailer. The bride was beautifully attired in a heliotrope costume, with French trimmings, and was a true picture of loveliness as she leaned on the arm of the man of her choice. She wore elegant diamonds and her trousseau is said to be very elaborate and costly. The bridegroom wore evening dress and the contrast between them and the bride made a scene beautiful in the extreme. The groom is well known in this place and the county over and is universally liked. He is a young man of good business qualifications and of sterling worth, while the young lady, he is and should be proud to call his wife, is one of the most elegant young ladies in the State and possesses beauty of face and figure and of character also, to a marked degree. They start out in life under circumstances most propitious and that their ripper years may be as bright as are now promised, the Extension for Sixty joins their many friends in wishing. The bride was the recipient of many useful and costly presents, further testimonials of her unbounded popularity. An elegant lunch was given them by Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Engleman immediately after the ceremony and yesterday they were dined by Mr. Givens' parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Givens. At present the happy couple will reside at Mr. Givens' present home, where he has a partnership with his father.

—Oliver Garrison, who owned the first steamboat that ran between St. Louis and New Orleans, committed suicide at the former city Monday. As he was a very old man he didn't cheat himself out of many days.

Begg's Cherry Cough Syrup Is giving splendid satisfaction to the trade and the sales are positively marvelous, which can be accounted for in no other way except that it is without doubt the best on the market. Ask for and be sure you get the genuine. We keep it. A. R. Penny, Druggist.

A Good Cough Syrup. There is nothing parents should be so careful about as selecting a cough syrup. Begg's Cherry Cough Syrup costs no more than the cheap and inferior nostrums shown on the market. The best is none too good, be sure and get Begg's CHERRY COUGH SYRUP. We keep it hand at all times. A. R. Penny, Druggist.

A Woman's Discovery. "Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this county. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she struggled incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption and was so much relieved on taking the first dose that she slept all night, and with one bottle she has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Lillian Lutz." This was written by C. H. Harkness & Co., of Shelby, Ky., and a free trial bottle at A. R. Penny's drug store.

The "Mother's Friend." Not only "mother's labor" and lessens pain attending it, but greatly diminishes the danger to the lives of both the mother and the child if used a few months before confinement. Write to the Bradford Regular Co., Atlanta, Ga., for further particulars. For sale at A. R. Penny, Stanford.

PARKSVILLE, BOYLE COUNTY.

—J. T. Bailey sold several fat cattle to J. F. Owens at 2 cents.

—Mrs. Harvey Brewer died on the Rolling Fork last week of pneumonia after a long illness.

—Mr. W. S. Aldridge has just moved into his new residence west of town, which is about completed.

—Mr. W. D. Latimer has been appointed postmaster, vice Geo. H. Hocker resigned. The latter gentleman is still in charge.

—Mr. C. S. Parks is building an addition to his store house, which will afford him better facilities for conducting his prosperous business.

—Stanton E. Cozatt, L. & N. ticket agent at Clarksville, Tenn., who came here to recuperate, has returned and resumed his duties.

—A party of about 15 gentlemen will soon go to North Carolina to hunt bear and deer. They will go via Knoxville and Marysville, Tenn.

—Voters should remember that when called upon by the canvassers next week they will not be allowed a vote unless they deposit the ballot in the box at that time.

—Candidates are too thick for a laboring man who wants to do a full day's work. Five candidates for the democratic nomination for assessor are riding now and two for county judge.

—Game is abundant this year with us and dozens of rabbits and partridges are killed daily except Sunday. On the Sabbath some of our wicked small boys, and large ones, too, gather hickory nuts, which are very plentiful also. There are no chestnuts, except those told by the funny (?) folks of the 'ville. Beech nuts are also a failure this year with us.

—Prof. J. W. Rawlings, of the common school here, is announced as a candidate for superintendent of common schools of Boyle county. Mr. Rawlings is running subject to the action of the democracy. He has no opposition and of course will receive the nomination. Rev. R. H. Caldwell is a candidate for reelection; he runs "without politics."

—Rev. R. H. Caldwell and Mr. W. L. Caldwell and daughter, Miss Nannie, are at Elkton, Ky., attending some convention of the C. P. church, I think. Mr. S. C. Brewer is confined to his room by an attack of erysipelas on his arm. Will Armstrong is improving. Also Miss Irvine, who is ill with the typhoid fever. Mrs. M. J. Latimer and little daughter are much better.

—The examining trial of George Gordon for killing John Brooks and shooting at James Brooks and of the latter for shooting Gordon at this place Oct. 19th is set for Nov. 12th, here. Meanwhile both are out on their own recognizance. Opinion is very much divided as to who has violated the law. Some persons think Gordon acted in self defense; others think not. Eye witnesses differ as to who the aggressor was. Gordon's wounds, a shot in the forehead and one through the left leg, may become dangerous yet, as he is by no means improving, as was expected.

Multiply the price of your winter clothes by 47 per cent, and see how much you are contributing to the "protection of American industries." Not a pound of this is manufactured in this country, yet we are compelled to pay 47 per cent, on every pound imported. How do a his help our working men?

They say every shot of one of Krupp's newest guns costs $1,500. That is to say it costs that much at one end of the shot. What it costs at the other end depends on how much the thing it hits is worth, and what it will cost to remove the debris.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by A. R. Penny, Stanford, Ky.

Eupespy.

This is what you ought to have, in fact, you must have it to fully enjoy life. Thousands are searching for it daily, and mourning because they find it not. Thousands upon thousands of dollars are spent annually by our people in the hope that they may attain this boon. And yet it may be had by all. We guarantee that Electric Bitters, if used according to directions and the use persistered in, will bring you Good Digestion and ease the Human Digestive and assimilate instead Eupespy. We command Electric Bitters for Dyspepsia and all diseases of Liver, Stomach and Kidneys. Sold at one and a half per bottle by A. R. Penny's drug store.

W. P. WALTON.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For County Judge THOMAS W. VARNON;
County Attorney, JOSEPH B. PAXTON;
County Clerk, GEORGE B. COOPER;
Sheriff, J. N. MENEFEE;
Jailer, SAMUEL M. OWENS;
Assessor, E. D. KENNEDY;
Supt. of Common Schools, W. F. McCLARY;
Surveyor, HARRY A. EVANS;
Coroner, ARCH CARSON.

BRO. PHILLIPS, of the Lebanon Standard, has taken down the announcement that the paper is for sale, disgusted no doubt with the prospect. A newspaper property in a country town, especially if it is well equipped for work, is about the most unsalable that could be imagined, because but few people with the ability to buy care to invest $5,000 to $10,000 in it. Bro. J. W. Hopper, a number of years ago offered the same paper for sale and as he tells it a man came to buy. The editor took great pains to show him how valuable the property was and a day or so was spent by him in investigation. Finally the fellow asked the price. "I will take $3,500, cash," said Bro. Hopper. "H—!" exclaimed the fellow with more emphasis than piety, "If I had $3,500 what do you suppose I would want with a newspaper?" He expressed it exactly. But few men want to invest so heavily to enter a life of drudgery and small recompense at best. The INTERIOR JOURNAL is always open for a purchaser, but we fear none with a sufficient amount of money will ever want to invest so much as we have in so small a town.

The election in Ohio will occur next Tuesday, and Campbell, the democratic candidate for governor, has made a mimic and aggressive campaign and has more than a fighting chance for election. He has exposed the rottenness that has grown and festered under Foraker rule and has succeeded in springing a new sensation at nearly all of his appointments. On the other hand the republicans have had to assume the defensive and have found it hard to excuse many of Little Breches' acts. Third-termism has likewise a dampening effect on the ardor of some republicans, who do not greatly admire Foraker's dictatorial course besides. The democrats also claim they will elect a majority of the legislators, which will in turn elect a successor to Senator Payne. We are not putting up any money on the result, but it will cause no great surprise to see after the smoke of Tuesday's battle has been cleared Foraker and his crowd stretched dead upon the field.

Last week Judge Beckner announced his candidacy to represent Clark county in the constitutional convention. This week he has a column in his paper, the Winchester Democrat, in response to various "slanders and misrepresentations" that have already been sprung against him. One of the charges is that he is not a democrat. We suppose this comes from his advocacy of the Blair bill, which the judge has seen fit to champion, but which is not an absolute test of democracy or several of our leading law makers would be read out of the party. Judge Beckner is a good man and would reflect credit on a body of constitution makers.

COL. SAM M. BURDET has gone to Harlan to write up the war for the Courier-Journal and Times, which means that it will be well done. In his first letter, written from Pineville, he states that the Howards are getting the worst of it and are leaving the country for the country's good. County Judge Lewis is in possession of the Court-house and with his faithful followers is making life burdensome to the outlaws. If he succeeds in restoring peace a grateful State will give him the glory and honor he so well deserves.

The success of two or three ladies in getting the office of School Superintendent seems to have put lines in the brows of the sisters all over the State. There are already nearly a dozen announced in as many counties and now comes one in Mason who wants to serve the dear people. The disease seems to be as contagious as the itch is with school children. It is passing strange how anxious the dear creatures are to usurp the male prerogative.

The Transcript broke the record in Lexington by issuing a 24-page edition last Sunday, with illuminated cover, chock-full of matter setting forth the advantages of its city and county. The paper has also resumed its press dispatches and altogether seems to have awakened to the fact that it is able to make the best paper in the city.

HARRISON has just appointed a negro postmaster at Clarksville, Tenn., and the people are justly indignant. A negro does well enough for Southern people, but the president admits he would not like to see one in charge of the Indianapolis office.

What's the matter with Bro. Helwig, the prohibition candidate for governor of Ohio? He doesn't seem to be in the race at all. Leastwise we never see his name mentioned.

The Virginia democrats are preparing to redeem the Old Dominion Tuesday by burying Mahone so deep he will never show his miserable head again. The majority against him will be fully 25,000.

NEWS CONDENSED.

—The 56 hour bicycle race at San Francisco was won by Miss Helen Baldwin, who covered 884 miles.

—In Raleigh county, W. Va., a deputy U. S. Marshal, named Hagar, was fatally shot while eating supper.

—Mayor Davenport, of Kansas City, slapped Congressman Tarsney's jaws when he made an insulting remark to him.

—The New Yorks defeated the Brooklyn in six out of the nine baseball games and are the champions of the world.

—In 1855 James G. Blaine and Melville W. Fuller, the present chief justice, were both reporters on papers in Augusta, Me.

—The Controller of the Currency has authorized the Union National Bank of Louisville to begin business with a capital of $500,000.

—The fertilizing department of the packing-house of Armour & Co., at Kansas City was destroyed by fire. Loss $10,000; insured.

—The Supreme Court of Indiana has declared the $250 license law valid. The revenues of Indianapolis will be increased about $100,000.

—There is great destitution in Dakota. Crops have failed three times in succession and many persons have neither food, fuel nor money.

—The Westinghouse Company, of Pittsburgh, has the contract to build an immense electric light plant for lighting the city of Peking, China.

—Twenty of the lynchers of Robert Berier at Lexington, N. C., are under arrest for the crime and it is hoped they will be made to suffer severely.

—During a difficulty on the steamboat James Lee, on the Ohio, a passenger named Norman was shot dead and John Childress, the clerk, was mortally wounded.

—Will Griffin, an engineer, fell from his engine near Hopkinsville and was fatally injured. Time keeper Eugene Sweeney was crushed to death on Muldraugh's Hill.

—The Mountain Observer wants the marriage of first cousins prohibited by law in Kentucky. Inbreeding has been a serious evil in the Observer's section of the State.—C. J.

—Judge Jackson, of Louisville, has decided that the game of contz is not a felony and the lovers of that festive pastime can continue to corrupt morals and cause murders.

—Turner's rented pension office employees are all to be dismissed from the pension department. So far so good, but the money stolen from them from the treasury will not be returned.

—A misunderstanding of orders caused a collision between freight and passenger trains on the Norfolk and Western railroad near Bufordsville, Va. Three men were killed and 4 injured.

—The strike at the Columbus and Hocking Valley Coal and Iron Company's mines in Ohio has been declared off. The strikers returned to work yesterday having failed to carry their point.

—Rube Burrows, the Southern desperado and train robber, is making it lively for his pursuers. He and a companion caught the party napping in a cave and held them prisoners, killing Capt. Josh Martin, of Birmingham.

—A Louisville tobacco dealer named Mason, who fraudulently hypothesized warehouse receipts in 1882, returned from Canada on the 28th inst., and at the instance of leading citizens 12 indictments against him were dismissed.

—Advices from Lincoln county, W. Va., where McCoy and Haley were recently lynched by the Brannfields, say that both factions of the feud are arming. Orders for rifles have been sent to Huntington, and a big fight is considered inevitable.

—The Columbia Spectator tells of the cold-blooded murder of Milton Coffey, in Russell county, on the 27th, by Jim Holt, a desperado, who had just returned from Louisville where he was taken for violating the internal revenue laws. He was arrested.

—Samuel Smith, of Knox county, seduced one of Wm. Gilbert's daughters, who is deaf and dumb, a baby boy being the result, and ran off with the other, notwithstanding Mr. Gilbert is on his bond for $5,000 for murder. Smith is also under $2,000 bond for another murder and $500 for malicious wounding.

—Finley's son, Charley, who was appointed general deputy under Collector Scott, at Louisville, could not stand the racket, so he gave up his job inside of a week. Having been raised in the mountains, where they go to bed at sundown, he couldn't stand the late hours he would be sometimes forced to keep.

—A dispatch from Milton, W. Va., says 150 men, nearly equally divided between the Hatfield and McCoy factions, were massed some 10 or 12 miles south of Hemlin and a bloody battle was inevitable. The McCoy's are entrenched in the hills, and at last reports the Hatfields had discovered their whereabouts and were marching to attack them.

—While Robert Mitchell, a farm hand at Springfield, Neb., was hatching a horse he was instantly killed by lightning as he ought to have been.

—That story about Frank Tolliver marrying Miss Grace Martin, in Rowan, is all "hosh." Frank Tolliver married the widow of the murdered "Bud" Tolliver, formerly a Miss Lane.—Paris Kentuckian.

—Miss Sarah F. Hall and her brother, Levin B. Hall, who burned a neighbor's house at Princess Anne, Md., because he wanted to paint one of its walls, have been adjudged guilty of arson. The penalty is death.

—A cable used for transporting granite blocks across a gulch at Danbury, Conn., broke Wednesday under strain of a heavy load and caused the death of two Italian laborers, besides injuring several others.

—Mrs. Eliza Davis, who was discharged Wednesday at Niles, Mich., on the charge of larceny, is now believed to be none other than the daughter of old Mrs. Bender, connected with the horrible Kansas murder.

—Robert Mullins, of Elizabethtown, was married at Labette, Kansas, to a young lady whom he had never seen, they becoming engaged through answering "wanted correspondence." If the match turns out well it will be the first of the kind we have heard of.

—The Court of Appeals has decided in an appeal case from Rowan county that where under a prohibitory liquor law a physician has a right to prescribe liquor as a medicine and have it administered to his patient, a druggist who in good faith furnishes liquor upon the prescription of a physician to one whose condition as the time requires it, does not violate the law, which must be construed according to its spirit.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—Misses Lula and Mary Sandifer entertained a few friends at their home Tuesday evening.

—The little daughter of Robert Collier was accidentally and painfully scalded one day last week.

—Mr. B. G. Mullins has traded all of his real estate possessions in this county to a Mr. Spencer for Idaho property.

—John (Red Cloud) Clarke, son of William, had one of his feet badly mangled by a car passing over it at the depot Sunday.

—Wilson McCullum, of the Paint Lick neighborhood, was tried Tuesday on a writ de lunatico inquirendo. He was taken to Anchorage Wednesday by Jailor Rothwell.

—Mr. T. T. Eaton, of Louisville, will deliver a lecture at the Fork church on Thursday evening, November 7, Subject "Poor Kin." A subject no newspaper man knows anything about.

—Mr. Quinby, from Dayton, Ky., has been here for the past week for the purpose of organizing a lodge of Knights of Pythias. He has succeeded in getting a charter petition subscribed to by a sufficient number, among them the names of some of our best citizens.

—Miss Eliza Smith has gone to Birmingham to visit her brother George, who is stationed there. Capt. C. Gallagher and W. C. Sweeney left Tuesday for Cincinnati to lay in a stock of goods. Mrs. J. P. Sandifer returned home Wednesday after a week's visit to her husband and Middlesboro.

—Mike Salter drove 7 miles the other day for a hunt. With gun, dog and pocket full of loaded shells, he plunged into the field anticipating fine sport, when to his disgust in attempting to put into his gun one of the fifty shells he was burdened with, he found them two sizes smaller than the gun. You can guess the rest.

—Our literary and fun-loving people missed a genuine treat of literature by not attending the lecture at the opera house Monday evening, delivered by the famous Col. L. E. Copeland. His subject, that of "Snobs and Snobbery," is particularly suited to American audiences, except an audience of Lancasterians. We were sorry to see so few people out to hear this prince of orators and can assure them that to see a half dozen minstrel troupes would not repay them for what they have lost.

—The republicans, after a stormy convention Monday, in which the colored man held the balance of power, to be exercised by the party bosses, declared the following nominations: For county judge, W. C. Montgomery; county attorney, Lewis Landrum; county clerk, Faulkner Lusk; assessor, John C. Bower; jailer, J. D. Gully; school superintendent, Mrs. Belle Barnside. For the present we withhold comment on this ticket, which has a wonderful political pedigree.

HUSTONVILLE.

—The ladies of the Presbyterian church will give a supper Tuesday night, Nov. 5th. Doors open at 6 o'clock. Admission 35 cents. All are cordially invited.

—WINCHESTER CORN. — About 1,000 cattle on the market, none strictly choice. The following public sales were made: 15 good 1,250 lb. steers brought $3.25; 50 good 1,200 lb. steers $3; 28 fair feeders, 1,050 lbs., $2.85; 23 fair feeders, 1,100 lbs., $2.90; 10 fair feeders, 1,100 lbs., $2.93; 36 good yearlings $3.00; 25 common yearlings, $2.50; 15 good calves $13 per head. Other sales were made at about the same figures. Toss and Connie Lisle sold to W. B. Kidd 123 cattle, weight 1,575 lbs., at 4 cents. Mr. Kidd also bought of Roger Galhoun, 100 of about the same quality at the same price.—Democrat.

THE LOUISVILLE STORE.

PERSONAL POINTS.

—The R. C. Morgan went to Lebanon Wednesday.

Miss Emma Frewitt, of Louisville, is visiting friends here.

A. L. Adams, of Somerset, was up to see his old friends Wednesday.

Miss Nancy Jones, of Mill Springs, is the guest of Mrs. W. G. Roney.

Mr. A. T. Nunnally is in Cincinnati with a couple of carloads of cattle.

Will Hall has been to Cincinnati on a business and pleasure trip combined.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wallace have returned from a visit to relatives in Mercer.

Miss Annie Bonbrun and Julia Sturge, of the West End, are visiting Mrs. T. J. Foster.

Mrs. R. H. Brunsbach, of Crab Orchard, is visiting the family of Dr. G. W. Brunsbach.

The Steele family was up to see Mrs. Nield's little girl at Mt. Vernon Wednesday. She has the pneumonia.

Miss Lillian Buchanan, of Crab Orchard, who has been visiting Mrs. M. S. Hamilton, returned home yesterday.

Miss Wm. Greer and Mrs. Sam M. Owens have returned from Middlesboro and Cumberland Gap, much pleased with their visit.

The Clinch says Miss Mollie Fife, who has been dangerously ill with typhoid fever, is fast recovering, which will be good news to her friends here and elsewhere.

Mr. H. L. Penny, of Stanford, visited friends here Sunday. He says that Paris has more pretty girls than Stanford.—Paris News. The girls here say Mr. Penny shall rue this remark.

Mr. C. D. Thompson, the expert adjuster of the London, Liverpool & Globe, was here yesterday fixing up some small losses, afterwards going to Hustonville to fix up with Cook & Westoverford.

CITY AND VICINITY.

Very fine candles at T. R. Walton's.

New lot of boys' clothing at S. H. Shanks.

Stoves, coal vases and kitchen sets cheap at T. Metcalf's.

Our messy Mackville suburb is monkeying with the needles.

New lot of jewelry and watches just received. W. B. McRoberts.

Any one wishing a wheat drill will do well to see me. I. M. Bruce.

The Crab Orchard Cornet Band will give a supper and hop at College Hill, Crab Orchard, to-night. All invited.

Mr. B. H. Danks, jeweler at W. B. McRoberts, has just received a fine lathe and other jeweler's machinery, thus enabling him to make most any part of a watch and do the finest engraving. Give him a trial.

The list of claims allowed against the county by the recent court has been filed for publication and will appear in our next. It foots up $12,881.03 against $8,990.77 last year. In a few more years at this rate bankruptcy will stare us in the face.

As Mr. George Vaughan was riding through a barn on Mr. Sim Cook's farm his head struck a piece of projecting timber and an ugly gash three inches long and to the skull was made by it. The wound is a very painful one and Mr. Vaughan will likely be confined to his room for some time.

The thigh of Mr. Wesley Ront was not broken quite so high up as reported in our last, being about half way between the knee and hip. The patient is resting easy and suffers but little pain. The doctors say his great age has impaired the power to experience acute pain. There is hardly a chance for his recovery as he is growing gradually weaker all the time.

A Big Raid.—News comes from Rockcastle that Float Logan, deputy collector, with a posse raided H. P. Bethuram's registered distillery, two miles south of Mt. Vernon, and captured the proprietor and eight others connected with the works, and found 37 barrels of unstamped whiskey and brandy hidden under the distillery floor and in a barn and dwelling. Eight teams hauled the liquor and prisoners to Somerset. Writs are out against others supposed to be connected with the distillery. Bethuram has been robbing the distillery for a number of years. This is the first time he ever got caught, though the officers have been watching him for some time.

Fresh Salt at T. R. Walton's.

Nick dranges 25c dozen. S. S. Myers.

Fish Wanted.—German Carp to stock pond. Address W. L. McCarty, Kingsville, Ky.

New lot of jewelry, watches and silverware just received. All silverware sold will be engraved at reasonable rates. W. B. McRoberts.

The Boston Ideal Minstrels, composed of 20 first-class artists, are the next on the amusement programme. They will appear at Walton's Opera House, Saturday night, Nov. 5.

Mrs. Annie Cash has withdrawn her suit for divorce against W. C. Cash and will make no move to his counter petition. Mr. Cash was accordingly granted a full divorce Wednesday with the custody of his children.

Jaime Rothwell, of Gaffard, and editor M. D. Hughes, of the Lancaster News, passed through this city Tuesday night on their way to Anchorage with a white inmate named Wilson McCallum. We will be uneasy about Bro. Hughes until we hear that he is again at his post. The superintendent of the Asylum might make a mistake.

A Prodigy.—Little Andrew Whitley Bright, the six-year-old son of Mr. H. C. Bright, is a wonder at figures. He can add, subtract or divide the largest numbers and does not know one figure from another. He counts everything in sight and even when there are attractions that would take the attention of most anyone he spends his time in figuring in his mind the different objects that come to his view.

It is with regret that we note the persistence of a few of our young ladies in using paint and pencil to beautify their already pretty faces. Not one time in a hundred is it put on with sufficient dexterity to make it invisible and besides it is injurious to the skin and a bad habit after all. Quit it young ladies, you possess beauty and attractiveness given you by nature far greater than any made by mortal hands, were a barrel of the stuff used in effort.

FIRE AT SOMERSET.—Mr. O. H. Widdie, who came up from Somerset yesterday, tells us that the Somerset Banking Co.'s building caught fire about 10 o'clock Wednesday night and for awhile the chances for a disastrous fire were flattering. Manful fighting, together with the rain, which came in a most opportune time, finally got the fire under control, and as only the rear portion was burned, only a few hundred dollars damage was done. In his attempt to extinguish the fire Teller R. G. Hall suffered a painful cut in the hand.

TELEPHONE.—Prof. L. Eddy, the gentleman who has connected Danville, Parksville, Junction City, Ky., with Lexington by telephone, was here Wednesday. He proposes, if he can raise $500 in stock here, shares to be $25, to run a line from Danville to Stanford and thereby give us a connection with all the interior towns. His lines use the regular Bell instruments warranted to do what is expected of them. He will likely be here again to-day to interview those who may be interested in the matter and it is hoped we will secure a line that will be kept in order and always ready for service.

THE C. R. R.—Capt. W. H. Spradlin has gotten his engineering corps in good shape and they are working like Turks, going to their duty at 7 a. m. and not returning till after dark. Besides two colored axemen, the force is as follows: P. B. Carter, H. C. McLarew, W. T. Blue, R. H. Woodard, George C. Rutland, M. A. Forbesque and W. H. Ware. A very satisfactory and cheap line has been run from Rowland to McKinney, along the foot of the knobs and yesterday another line to run through town was being surveyed. Capt. Spradlin is very enthusiastic over the prospects and is confident if the Lincoln county people will do their duty we will soon have a road to Nashville and the South, opening up a vast territory of splendid country and incidentally benefiting us. We must have the road if by any practical means we can secure it.

A HORSE TRIFLE.—About a couple of weeks ago, a dashing dude, who registered as G. B. Kemp and claimed Lexington as his home, came here under the pretense of representing Kemp & Co., picture enlargers, of Covington, this State, and secured some 17 orders. He was here about a week and when he got ready to leave informed mine host, Mr. Portman, that he had no money to pay his board. Seeing that that gentleman was becoming wrothy at that statement Kemp pulled out a few dollars and that with a draft on his house, which seems to be an imaginary one, for $1, settled the bill. At Junction City the day he left here, he was arrested by a liveryman from Lexington on the charge of stealing a horse and buggy. At his examining trial there he was held in $250 bond till the Circuit Court and now the gallant and festive youth languishes in durango vile in that city. The $1 draft given Mr. Portman came back unpaid of course, and the "50 cents cash down" on the pictures will be lost by those who patronized the cheeky youngster, who can find sympathy with good hearted Mr. J. D. Swain, who is some $5 loser by the same fraud.

A BAD BREAK.—Brack Graves got on a tear Tuesday at Rowland and started out to clean up the town. He came across Judge Shelton, Anderson Nunnally and Bright Ferrell, who were handling some cattle, and without provocation drew a knife and cut at Fatty in a vicious manner, doing no further damage than to rip his coat. Anderson thought discretion the better part of valor and lit out with Bright also making 2:40 time. Graves then tackled Judge Shelton and after a desperate struggle, the latter succeeded in knocking him down with a stick and with the assistance of Waverly Hamilton and Nunnally, who had returned on the Judge's call, tied Graves hands behind him and brought him to jail where he remained until next day, when he was let out on bond. It is reported that Ferrell paid no heed to the judge's call for help, but is still taxing his legs to take his fat body out of the way.

The only case tried Tuesday was that of Tom Jarboe for shooting Tom Lunsford. He was defended by John S. Casley, Jr., who made his maiden speech and not only acquitted himself creditably, but came near acquitting his client, who was fined only $50 when the maximum penalty for the offense is five years in the penitentiary. Jarboe will lay the fine out in jail at $2 a day, which will be of small consequence to him, as he has gotten used to his quarters there, having been confined for several months.

Wednesday Arch Adams confessed that he stole a hog from J. E. Farris and was given a year in the penitentiary. Leslie Stewart was tried for rape alleged to have been committed on one of his color, Julia Pardon, but the charge was not sustained and he was acquitted. John Hansford, charged with a like offense against the same woman, was discharged, the testimony being the same as in the other case. The case against Tom Wren for the murder of his father-in-law, Joe Baker, alias Beaver Tail, was then called and the following jury obtained: J. B. Myers, C. B. Sampson, Wm. Underwood, Samuel Reid, F. E. Sandridge, J. H. Taylor, Arch Anderson, Alex Taylor, T. J. Hill, Thomas Metcalf, Tilford Messer and G. G. Wine. Wren swore that Baker came to his house and extended his hand for a shake. He started to take it and then the old man tried to brim him with a hatchet. They scuffled around a while and finally he (Wren) backed out of the house, Baker still following him with the uplifted weapon. It was outside that he fired the shot, which entered the old man's bowels and killed him in two or three weeks. The cause of the assault with the hatchet was the fact that Wren had slapped his wife, Baker's daughter. There was no person present but Wren's wife, but Mr. Sheppard, who was a quarter of a mile off, swore that Baker ran out of the house with Wren after him. The prosecution was assisted by W. O. Hansford, while Wren was defended by half a dozen of the local lawyers, all of whom made speeches. The case was given to the jury at 3 o'clock, but had not returned a verdict at the hour we went to press.

HOME AND FARM, LOUISVILLE, KY.

The Leading Agricultural Journal of the South and West.

Made by Farmers for Farmers.

As a record of successful agriculture, HOME AND FARM is unequalled. Its topics relating to agriculture is openly discussed. In its columns by the farmers themselves. No expense is spared in securing a full account of every notable success on the farm. It is distinctively the FARMER'S OWN PAPER.

A record of their daily life, presented in a form and language which make it plain to all.

ITS LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS contains the names of the most progressive farmers of the South and West. They do not treat of theoretical farming, but of the actual conditions which confront us to-day: D. F. Johnson; W. H. Brown; Henry Stewart; John M. Stahl; A. P. Ford; Jeff. Welborn; Hugh T. Brooks; John C. Edgar; Steele's Bayon; T. B. Baldwin and a host of others make this journal indispensable. Moreover, it is equally

A HOME MAGAZINE. Every subject of interest to the home-maker is fully treated. Mary Marsden, Lois Catesby, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Davies, Miss Cabell, Miss Mosby, Alice Winston and a score of others will contribute regularly.

FAITH LATIMER is in charge of our Children's Department, and she has the peculiar faculty of being both interesting and instructive.

THE MYSTERY OF THE NATION is a thrilling story appearing in HOME AND FARM, by John H. Musick, and is exciting wide attention. Short stories by distinguished writers appear from time to time.

BILL ARPS' LETTERS appear in each issue, and this humorous philosopher was never more interesting than at this time.

IN ITS EDITORIAL DEPARTMENT HOME AND FARM speaks boldly and fearlessly in behalf of "Farmers' Rights." It favors a revision of the tariff in behalf of the farmer; better roads for the farmer; free mail delivery to the farmer; Co-operation among the farmers, and its aim is to "Trust Trusts." Its motto is "Fair Trade and Farmers' Rights."

WHAT SHALL WE WEAR?

FASHIONS FOR MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

School Dresses for Large Girls and Dresses and Skirts for Small Girls—Pleasing Styles in Petticoats—Hints to Men on the Subject of Clothing.

Scotch and French plaids in dark colors, made with plaited waists and skirts, form desirable school dresses for girls of 12 to 14 years of age. These dresses are usually finished with velvet plastron, collar, etc. For more dressy occasions young girls' gowns are made of cashmere, light weight cloth or other wool fabric, and trimmed with tulle, passementerie, embroidery or velvet ribbon. A favorite make is an Empire waist and gathered skirt.

DRESSES FOR LITTLE GIRLS

White dresses may be laid aside for wool ones, on the approach of cold weather, for little girls of 3 years of age and more. These dresses are made with high, round waists and straight, gathered skirts; a sash of same material, or of silk, is tied at the back. In the cut are illustrated two dresses, suited to girls of 6 and 7 years of age.

One of these dresses is made with a low bodice and skirt in tulle, and ornamented with braes and streamers in velvet ribbon of the dark shade of the pattern. Similar velvet encircles the full sleeves, which, like the bodice front in plain material, matches one of the light tints of the checks. The remaining dress is of Brocade woolen, set off with cuffs and yoke of dark velvet. The full sleeves are gathered at the top, and so is the stonacher of surah silk, which is framed or bordered with plaited braes, likewise of surah silk.

Gentlemen's Clothing.

Double-breasted sack coats will be fashionable for gentlemen's business suits this winter. These are made of black broad-ribbed diagonals or black Thibet or Cheviot, with a vest of the same, and colored trousers, either in checks or stripes. Business suits made all of one material are mostly of checked or striped Cheviots or tweeds, with either the new double-breasted sack coat, the simpler single-breasted sack or else the cutaway walking coat. Plain slate gray worsteds are also used for entire suits. Rough goods and the plain goods, such as dark blue or black Cheviots, are especially liked for the new double-breasted sacks to be worn with slate gray or dark blue striped trousers that are cut straight and are of fair width. The extremely wide trousers of last year have given place to those of medium width for all kinds of suits.

Frock coat suits are considered the correct day dress suits, and are usually worn by the groom, best man and ushers at afternoon weddings. The vest matches the coat, and striped trousers are now worn of quite light lavender or bluish gray shades.

Full dress suits, worn only in the evening, are little changed in style. They are made throughout of fine cheviots and Thibets, and they may have an additional vest of white worsted or Marcellise. A slight vest of embroidery borders the white and the black vests. The swallow tail dress coat remains of the usual length, and is rolled low, with silk facing; the vest is also cut very low and discloses three studs in the shirt bosom.

Single-breasted sack overcoats, with fly fronts, will be worn this winter of medium length and faced with silk. Occasionally double sacks are preferred, and are made quite loose in front and back, hanging straight from the shoulders like the box coats used for driving. Cape coats for evening overcoats are made of heavy cheviots in broad double diagonal with plaid lining, according to Harper's Bazar, authority for the foregoing.

Silk Petticoats.

The fashion which prevailed to a considerable extent last winter of wearing silk petticoats under walking dresses in place of white muslin skirts, is a very sensible and convenient one, and finds favor again this season. These petticoats are made in a variety of styles. Some are especially designed for warmth, a thin layer of cotton being placed between the outside and the lining. This wedding is held in place by quilting.

In the cut is shown a somewhat elaborate affair, designed for show rather than for warmth. This petticoat is made in alternate stripes of surah silk and lace insertings. The plaited border around the bottom is edged with lace flouncing. The pointed belt is of silk, and the ribbon bows and ties match the silk in color. These petticoats are usually made in cardinal, cherry, pink or one of the shades of blue colored silk.

Fashion Notes.

Black costumes are again considered stylish and fashionable.

Astrakhan is a favorite trimming for tailor made coats and jackets.

Brocade is in favor for trains to dinner and reception gowns.

Shoulder capes of cloth and of fur are largely worn.

Some of our young ladies are reviving an old fashion in hair dressing. Little curls are clustered at each side of the head, being kept in place by side combs with fancy tops, the rest of the hair being combed upwards, and plaited or curled in a crown at the top of the head.

Feather trimmings will be used the coming winter in every imaginable way. Marabout feathers and uncured ostrich plummage will be especially favored.

Hot Air Inhalations in Consumption.
 Science states that from experiments in a number of cases, Dr. E. L. Trudeau, of Saranac Lake, N. Y., concludes that (1) the therapeutic value of hot air inhalations in phthisis is doubtful; and (2) the evidence obtained by the bacteriological study of the cases presented does not confirm the assumption that inhalations of heated air can either prevent the growth of the tubercle bacillus in the lungs of living individuals or diminish the virulence of this microbe when it has gained access to them.

PHYSIOLOGY AND HYGIENE.

A New Bacillus—Has the True Cause of Baldness Been at Last Discovered?

Dr. Saymonne is reported to have succeeded in isolating a bacillus named by him "bacillus cirrivorax," which he regards as the cause of baldness. He claims that it is found only on the scalp of those who have parts of the body and also the fur of animals being free from it. The bacillus invades the hair follicles and make the hairs very brittle, so they break off to the skin. Then the roots themselves are attacked. If the microbes can be destroyed early in the disease, the quality of the hairs may be preserved; but after the follicles are invaded and their structures destroyed, baldness becomes incurable. Dr. Saymonne proposes the following remedy or preventive of baldness:

Ten parts crude cod liver oil, ten parts of the expressed juice of onions, and five parts of macelego or the yolk of an egg are thoroughly shaken together, and the mixture applied to the scalp, and well rubbed in, once a week. This he asserts, will certainly bring back the hair if the roots are not already destroyed. But the remedy, says The Medical Record remarks, must be very distressing to the patient's friends and neighbors.

Take Time and Be Happy at Meals.

"It cannot be disputed that in the art of feeding the human animals they do these things better in France." So says the London Hospital and proceeds to draw the following comparisons between the eating habits of Englishmen and Frenchmen, which are not without some application to Americans as well: The middle-class Englishman eats hanks of beef and wedges of mutton, followed by pudding as solid as lead, and washed down with strong Burton ale, or still stronger Dublin stout. That is very good fare for plowmen and fox hunters. To the town man it is simply ruin. The Frenchman knows better. Neither in town nor in country will he feed like a carnivore. He believes in variety: he likes a little bit of many dishes, not a vast mountain of one. He likes it made pleasant to the taste. He takes time over it. It is quite the rule on the continent to see all the busy men in the town spend at least an hour at the restaurant over the midday meal. The eating done, a smoke, a game of draughts or dominoes and a cup of coffee are looked as aids to digestion.

The natural result is that a Frenchman or a Belgian looks happy at meals, and still happier at his coffee and dominos. In any man unscientific enough to say that the Frenchman is wrong and the Englishman is right! Eating is undoubtedly one of the chief functions of life, and if it be right to make all life bright and happy, then eating should be one of its chief pleasures. We English have a great deal to learn from many countries. We cannot do better than begin by learning how to prepare food so that it shall be pleasant and tempting to the senses, and how to eat it without looking like mutes at a funeral or lions at an ill managed "Zoo."

Ice a Remedy for Nausea.

A physician advances the theory that the distressing sensation of nausea has its seat in the brain and not in the stomach, and that relief may be obtained by cooling the base of the brain. He claims to have tested this often and thoroughly in the case of sick headache, bilious colic, cholera morbus and other ills in which the nausea is a distressing symptom, without a single failure, also, that he once relieved the nausea resulting from cancer of the stomach by the application of ice to the back of the neck and occipital bone. The ice is to be broken and the bits placed between the folds of a towel. Relief may be obtained by holding the head over a sink, or tub, and pouring a small stream of water on the back of the neck. This is worth remembering as a relief for sick headache, to which so many are subject.

Danger in the Use of Carbolic Acid.

Carbolic acid is freely used by people in general as a disinfectant and for various purposes, and usually without a thought of danger. The following letter, by Dr. H. H. H. of Vienna, lately published in The Lancet, is therefore somewhat of a surprise and may convey a needed caution: "I have lately seen four cases in which fingers which had suffered a most insignificant injury became gangrenous through the misused for application of carbolic acid. Carbolic acid is now much less used in surgery than formerly. We have only gradually become acquainted with its dangers. The acid may not only cause inflammation and gangrene, but also blood poisoning, and so may even prove fatal. It is useful only in the hands of a skillful surgeon, and ought never to be used without his advice."

SOCIAL ETIQUETTE.

Various Useful Hints About Prevailing Wedding Customs and Usages.

As weddings are again the order of the day, prospective brides and bridegrooms may find assistance in a few items of etiquette relating to the important occasion when the marital knot is tied.

First and foremost, as an answer to a question that seems never to stay answered, it may be emphatically remarked that a bridegroom should never wear his usual evening dress coat at a wedding in the day time. The proper costume is what is known as formal morning dress, for which a black frock coat is the correct one. No man in evening tailcoat is dress coat before his door 7 o'clock dinner.

Where a death has recently occurred in a family all friends, even the widowed mother, should, according to its good authority as Mrs. Sherwood, lay aside their mourning for the ceremony, appearing in colors. It is considered unlucky and inappropriate to wear black at a wedding. In our country a widowed mother appears at her daughter's wedding in purple silk or velvet, in England she wears deep cardinal red, which is considered under these circumstances to be mourning or proper for people in mourning.

A widow should never be accompanied by bridesmaids or wear a veil or orange blossoms at her nuptials.

She should wear at church a colored silk dress and bonnet and should be attended by her father, brother or some near friend. It is proper for her to remove her first wedding ring, as the wearing of that cannot but be painful to the bridegroom.

Wedding cake, instead of being sent about, is neatly packed in little boxes, and each guest takes one, if she likes, as she leaves the house.

The bridegroom makes what presents he pleases to the bride and bridesmaids, he has and, of course, to buy the wedding ring and send a bouquet to the bride, but he does not furnish the cards or engravings; this is done by the bride's family.

As soon as she can do so, the bride should write upon note paper a note of thanks to every one from whom she has received a gift, whether they are stranger to her or not, as in that case their gifts have probably been prompted from regard to her parents or fiancé, and should therefore be especially acknowledged.

The wedding tour and the selection of the honeymoon is no longer as obligatory as it once was, and some very fashionable couples have gone at once, or after a few days' trip, to housekeeping in their own house, simply "leaving" at home cards and announcing a day on which the bride will receive her friends.

The Prize Composition of a Young Girl on the "Homo Pig," a Native of All Countries—How to Make an Amusing Little Toy

Not very long ago one of the youthful contributors to Wido Awake was awarded a prize for the following composition on the "Homo Pig":

A HOMO PIG.

"The homo pig is a native of America, England, Mexico—and all other countries. Its color may be either white, black, yellow, brown or copper colored. Its head resembles a porker pig's, while its body is like that of a human being. It is sometimes intelligent, and may be taught many things. It is a herbivorous and carnivorous animal, and will eat almost anything else. Its chief characteristic is its prodigious appetite and its disposition to have the most and best of everything, regardless of the rights of others.

"We were told the other day of a young homo pig not more than four feet high, who can consume as much as the hired man at each feed, besides eating almost continually between meals of apples, nuts, turnips, candies, slippery elm and cinnamon barks and other odds and ends."

Slow Transformations Called Evolution.

A bino egg may become a robin. The latent life hid by marble walls may be warmed into activity and gather to itself the crumbs from a cottage table and weave therefrom the tissues of life—feet to perch among the blossoms, wings to fly among the trees, eyes to revel in the scenes disclosed by sunlight, and vocal organs to sing the song of love to mate.

A tiny seed may become a "big tree;" for, warmed into life, it sends its roots into the nourishing earth and its branches into the vivifying air, and gathers materials with which to build a noble growth of the forest.

The rill born of a summer shower carries the sand from the hillside and gives it to the brook, and the brook bears it on to the river, and the river transports it to the sea, and the impregnated tide finds a nest beneath the waves and in it lays the egg of an island. Then this boss on the floor of the ocean has the power to gather about it more sands as they come from the distant bills, and still more sands. Every summer shower gives it more, and every storm adds to the sands that are thus buried beneath the sea, until at last an island is hatched, as it lifts its head above the waves.

Robins grow to be robins by minute increase; trees grow to be islands by minute increase. This slow but sure change on change, Science tells you, is called evolution.

A Surprising Little Man.

A little figure may be made on the principle illustrated in the case, so as to balance itself very amusingly. Select a piece of wood about two inches long, cut one end of it into the form of a man's head and shoulders, and let the other end taper off gradually to a fine point, as shown in the annexed figure. Next furnish the little man with wafers, shaped like outs, instead of arms, which will serve him as a support when he is standing.

THE LITTLE BALANCER.

When you place him on the tip of your finger, if you have taken care to make the point exactly in a line with the center of his body, and have put the wafers accurately in their places, he will preserve his balance, even if blown about, provided he is not blown with so much force as to drive him off his perch. This little man will cause much surprise, in consequence of the fine point on which he oscillates.

Mustache, a Military Dog.

If the deeds of brave men find their record in print, may not our corner now and then be given to brave doings of our four footed friends, the dogs? Probably no dog has ever rendered such good service as the celebrated polo-vicious mung stunk at the head of his short notes. French by birth, he followed the fortunes of the French army through most of the Consulate wars, winning special honors at Marengo. At the battle of Austerlitz he rescued the regimental standard from an Austrian soldier, when in the act of snatching it from the hand of its mortally wounded bearer. The plucky polo-vicious drove off the assailant, and then, seizing the latter's colors in his teeth, dragged them triumphantly back to his own company. There is nothing said as to his personal appearance and bearing, or whether he was a large or a small, a black or a white polo-vicious, but for his brave conduct, as above recorded, he was decorated on the field of Austerlitz by one of the French officers.

The Glass of Water Under the Hat.

An innocent trick, which may afford some amusement to an inlorn party of young people, is as follows:

Place a glass of water upon the table, put a hat over it, and offer to lay a wager with any of the company that you will empty the glass without lifting the hat. When your proposition is accepted, desire the company not to touch the hat, and then get under the table and commence making a sucking noise, sucking your lips at intervals, as though you were swallowing the water with infinite satisfaction to yourself. After a minute or two come from under the table, and address the person who took your wager with, "Now, sir." His curiosity being of course excited, he will lift up the hat in order to see whether you have really performed what you promised, and the instant he does so take up the glass, and after having swallowed its contents say, "You have lost, sir, for you see I have drunk the water without raising the hat."
